

The image consists of two side-by-side photographs of a swimming pool at a resort. The left photograph shows a curved swimming pool with a bright blue-green border. In the background, there are yellow buildings with red-tiled roofs and arched windows. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds. The right photograph shows a larger, more rectangular swimming pool with a similar green border. The background features a yellow building with multiple arches and a palm tree. The sun is visible in the sky, creating a bright reflection on the water's surface.
